LITERARY GENIUS!

ULTRACHIC BRAVES WIFE SNAGS HANDBOUND, PERSONALIZED BABY BOOK.

By Elizabeth Schulte Roth

After you've meticulously designed the nursery, finalized the birthing plan and actually cradled your newborn, the thought of creating a baby book can seriously overwhelm a new mother.

Ashley McCann has found the super cute solution. The wife of all-star Atlanta Braves catcher Brian McCann reached out to Sara Weinberger of Bound by Sara to create something unique and handmade for her son, Colt. "I instantly fell in love with not only her work, but her passion," says Ashley. Weinberger tapped her own family to create a one-of-a-kind fairy tale for the new parents. With her father, Michael, writing a fanciful story, and glorious illustrations by her sister, Julie, the leather-bound story begins in The Land Before

Time—details include what Ashley craved during pregnancy and sonogram shots—and evolves into The Land of Now with pictures of the baby supplied by the McCanns. "Sara recreates the emotions from the photos," Ashley adds. "Each time I look at the book, I go back to the day [Colt] was first placed in my arms. Her books are a place I can relive all those happy moments." Now that the secret is out, however, don't wait to order one. Ashley is expecting her second baby, and she's already secured her next book. "We can't wait to pass this down to our children. It's a special way for our future grandkids and great-grandkids to get to know us." Price upon request, 3226, 3226 Roswell Road NE, thirtytwotwenty-six.com
